

Write a list of all different foods or drinks can you find in your cupboards at home that are made using chocolate or cocoa powder.

Create a PowerPoint presentation on a chocolate themed topic of your choice.

Choices could include:
How chocolate is made, how cocoa is grown or which are the best-selling chocolate bars in the UK?

Chocolate is grown in tropical climates. Write a fact file about an animal of your choice that lives in tropical jungles.

Roald Dahl loved chocolate and sweets of all kinds! Write a summary or book review of one of his books in less than 100 words.

Explore the history of the Cadbury family and Cadbury's chocolate and make your own timeline. This website will provide lots of information for you:

<https://www.cadbury.co.uk/our-story>

Elm Class - Topic homework ideas 'Chocolate Apprentice'

Look carefully at different chocolate bars and record the amount of energy, calories, fat and carbohydrates in them. Record your findings in a table or make a graph of what you have found.

Which chocolate bar has the most energy and calories?

How many different countries can you find that grow and export cocoa? Draw their flags and write down some key facts about them, such as their population or the name of their capital city.

Find and make a recipe that uses chocolate or cocoa powder. Write out the recipe you use and a quick review of what it tasted like and if you'd make it again!

Design your own 'Golden Ticket' like the ones from 'Charlie and the Chocolate Factory'.

Imagine you are one of the children lucky enough to find a Golden Ticket and enter Willy Wonka's famous chocolate factory. Write a story about your adventures.