

- Having been taught how to play the Muggle version of quidditch, teach someone else at home how to play.
- Write out the rules and invent some others or make up a completely different version of the game that we could try in school!

- Research JK Rowling and write a biography of her.
What inspired her to start writing?
What was her first book?
Has she always been an author or did she have a different job to begin with?

- Read one of the Harry Potter books at home, then watch the film of the book...
Write a review of each, comparing and contrasting them.
Explain which one you preferred – why?

- Choose characters from the books to write character descriptions/profiles for. Find tutorials online that you could follow to draw pictures of them to go with your writing.
